Evenings and Sunday activities are left to the host family to arrange and will vary according to each family's schedule.

Admission

Students who apply must be willing to work hard and build up their character while improving their English. Students must agree to sign an ethics contract during registration requiring them to respect their teachers and peers, display an obedient, positive learning attitude at all times, etc. Students who have had behavior problems in school will not be admitted. All students are required to provide a person's name other than a relative who can serve as a character reference.

About Us

Founded in 1996, Acaciawood Prep is a unique college preparatory academy, which utilizes a demanding academic curriculum designed to establish higher order thinking skills in the humanities and sciences and to develop persons of stronger character.

Acaciawood has gained many significant awards at various academic competitions at the local level as well as national level. Our graduates attend many prominent public and private universities throughout the United States.

Our motto, "Strong in Character, High in Standard," best expresses the philosophy of Acaciawood School. We believe that strong character is the foundation for all lasting human success and accomplishments. At Acaciawood, academic rigor is our primary tool to build character.

Our English language camp builds on this philosophy to teach English to foreign students. The program emphasizes language acquisition for verbal communication rather than merely improving reading and writing skills.
